OBJECTIVE

I am a 5th-semester student at Pembangunan Jaya University, enrolled in a management study program. I am interested in strategic management because it relates to organisations and employee involvement. As someone who will face the challenges of finding a job, I see strategic management as an opportunity for personal growth and learning. I have experience in an organisation as a cadre division whose task is to formulate the mission, aims, philosophy and targets of the organisation, which must determine the direction and objectives related to cadre formation, analyse the condition of new students' skills and abilities, and determine the skills and abilities needed to achieve cadre formation goals, designing leadership training programs to improve the skills and abilities of new students, developing a performance evaluation system to assess the performance of the association and ensure that they meet the required standards of skills and abilities. I am confident that this experience can help me grow as an individual who is more committed, productive, and ready to face new challenges in the world of work.
