Performance Review of Modern Chicken Slaughtering Industry: Experience as Production Supervisor at PT Ciomas Adisatwa Parung Unit

Internship is an experience that provides practical insights into the working world, where the intern serves as a Production Supervisor at PT Ciomas Adisatwa Parung Unit. The main tasks of the intern involve overseeing production smoothness, controlling employees, machines, and raw materials to achieve production targets and maintain quality standards. Throughout the internship process, the intern encountered various challenges, including issues related to raw materials, machinery, employees, as well as communication and coordination between departments. Thus, it is expected that the intern can overcome these challenges using their understanding and skills.
