THE INFLUENCE OF LEADERSHIP ON JOB INSECURITY ON EMPLOYEES DURING THE COVID-19 CRISIS TRANSITION.

The discussion of this research article is to see the influence of leadership on job insecurity on employees in some companies during covid 19. The existence of job insecurity in this research arises because of obstacles due to coronavirus that makes some companies impose termination of employment to their employees. This study wants to see if leadership efforts in organizing its group can overcome the perceived phenomenon of job insecurity due to the rising rate of termination of employment in some companies. This study used answers from respondents who were given questionnaires on leadership and job insecurity and calculated the answers obtained by correlation tests to see the influence between the two variables.
