Globalization has encouraged the entry of foreign cultures into Indonesia. This affects people's habits and mindset. Globalization is supported by various factors such as the development of technology, transportation, science, telecommunications and so on. Just as in a community house, the house is not just a matter of a space where people live in it, but the house is a place for activities, social interactions that are influenced by culture. The phenomenon of globalization encourages the entry of new cultures into Indonesia, for example the principles of Japanese architecture that entered Indonesia. in the suteki home project. Suteki Home is a house that applies the principles of Japanese home design which is a form of expression from the habits, activities, to the prevailing culture in Japan. One of the cultures that is highly applied in this country is the philosophy of zen. The main goal of this zen teaching is to achieve enlightenment or in Japanese terms is satori. Suteki Home is located in Grand Taruma, Karawang Indonesia. designed by PT Suteki Nice Indonesia which is a subsidiary of Nice Holding Japan which is a developer from Japan. With this, Suteki Home is related to the Zen philosophy. With the results of data collection and discussion, it can be concluded that Suteki Home in its design applies the zen philosophy. However, with its implementation in Indonesia, the application of the Zen philosophy has undergone several adjustments.
