

ABSTRACT

Designing a Food photography Book About Typical Culinary of Tangerang City

Elvina Oktafridayani.¹⁾, Zita Nadia²⁾

¹⁾ Student of Visual Communication Design Department, Universitas Pembangunan Jaya

²⁾ Lecturer of Visual Communication Design Department, Universitas Pembangunan Jaya

The typical culinary of Tangerang City is one of the traditional culinary heritages that must continue to be preserved because it has its own uniqueness, namely this special culinary is heavily influenced by existing acculturation, but in today's modern era, this culinary heritage is starting to be marginalized by the existence of modern cuisine so that its existence and existence increasingly difficult to find and develop as well as the lack of documentation of traditional Indonesian culinary treasures, especially in the culinary specialties of Tangerang City. The availability of documentation will be important where it can help introduce and automatically this cultural heritage is maintained and developed from generation to generation. This food photography book is designed in such a way with a visual approach so that the public can recognize the visualization of typical culinary delights that are displayed through the results of food photography. Information is obtained from journals, books, various articles, and through interviews and observations.

Keywords: Books, Food photography, Traditional Culinary, Tangerang City.