This study aims to find out the framing of news carried out by the national media Kompas.com and local media Prokal.co in the Mardani Maming mining permit bribery case in Tanah Bumbu. This research used qualitative methods using the Zhongdang Pan & Gerald M. Kosicki framing analysis method. The data were analyzed using four framing structures consisting of: syntactic structures, script structures, thematic structures, and rhetorical structures. The selection of news is carried out in the period June – August 2022 and determines 10 news from each media. The results showed the consistency of the two media in carrying out supervisory functions with different patterns influenced by media ideology in framing the news of the mining permit bribery case received by Mardani Maming. Kompas.com by highlighting the figure of Mardani Maming and describing how the Corruption Eradication Commission (KPK) responded and acted on the Mardani Maming Mining permit bribery case. Meanwhile, the framing shown by Prokal.co as the local Kalimantan media in the Mardani Maming bribery case saw that this case was not just a legal case, but there was an element of proximity, namely the proximity of events to the audience geographically, psychologically, and ideologically strongly related to the bribery case that Mardani Maming as the former regent of Tanah Bumbu at that time.
