Corruption is a protected act or position for personal gain. Acts of corruption can harm the state and society for the funds that have been misappropriated. One of them is the philanthropic organization, Aksi Cepat Tanggap, which misappropriated donations by ACT officials. This allows for different news framing from various media. This study aims to find out the framing of reporting on the act of misappropriation of Aksi Cepat Tanggap funds on the online news portals Tempo.co and Republika.co.id in the period July 2022 to January 2023. The selection of Tempo.co as media has an independent ideology according to facts and is critical of the issue of fraud. funds, while Republika.co.id because it has an Islamic religious ideology so it is related to the ACT philanthropic institution which adheres to Islamic religion. The approach in this study uses a qualitative constructivist paradigm. This study uses the Zhongdang Pan and Gerald M. Kosicki framing model with syntactic, script, thematic, and rhetorical structures. The results of this study indicate that the focus of writing on Tempo.co and Republika.co.id has contradictory reporting differences in the framing of the ACT case. Tempo framed the reporting of the ACT case which cornered ACT who was guilty of misappropriating funds and supporting the government's steps in handling cases of misappropriation of funds. Meanwhile, Republika.co.id frames those that try to bind neutrals who are looking for a middle way by covering up those that don't corner or praise ACT. Apart from that, Media Tempo.co and Republika.co.id framing the ACT case emphasizes the use of a more subtle euphemism word "misappropriation" of the acts of corruption in public funds.
