Professional work is a form of learning for students to gain clear work experience in a particular company. Professional work can hone students' abilities and skills under the guidance of experienced workers. Implementation of Professional Work at PT. MRT Jakarta is an important aspect in implementing professional work in the field of graphic design. Practitioners must have access to mentors who can provide direction, feedback and guidance in carrying out their duties. These mentors help practitioners understand the best tasks in the industry and guide them in dealing with situations they may have never faced before. Apart from that, professional work at PT. MRT Jakarta is a key element in ensuring that trainees gain meaningful and relevant work experience. By considering aspects such as conformity with design principles, level of difficulty, mentor guidance, and use of software as a graphic design operating tool, practitioners can hone their abilities and skills in an environment that is appropriate to the real world. This helps practitioners become professionals who are ready to contribute to the graphic design industry.
