The 90s marked a period rich in uniqueness and unforgettable memories in the transformation of culture, technology and lifestyle. To celebrate and remember this golden era, recreating the 90s magazine was born as an effort to bring readers nostalgia for those glorious times with a 90s magazine layout but with the latest news. Recreating a 90s magazine aims to combine contemporary touches with classic 90s elements. Inspired by retro aesthetics, this magazine is committed to bringing readers nostalgia for those times. The process of developing a magazine involves magazine collectors who are familiar with magazines in that era, doing thorough research regarding the audience and how influential or important the magazine was in that era. Additionally, exclusive interviews with key figures and celebrities from the period enrich the magazine's content. creating a magazine with an authentic atmosphere and full of nostalgic spirit. The combination of bright colors, bold graphics, and stories about iconic events and characters are the main attraction. Magazines are not just a media product, but are a sentimental journey that manages to revive the spirit of the past. By inviting readers to reminisce, this magazine is able to become a source of inspiration and new views for the current generation.
