This research aims to investigate the influence of the characteristics of the board of commissioners, board of directors, company size and board gender diversity on financial performance in manufacturing companies listed on the Indonesia Stock Exchange in 2018-2023. This type of research uses quantitative methods with purposive sampling techniques. The population in this study uses companies operating in the non-cyclical consumer segment and listed on the IDX for the period 2018-2023. The total sample for this research was 222 data obtained using purposive sampling techniques and analyzed using Eviews. Based on the results of the board of directors' analysis, company size and board gender diversity have a positive effect on financial performance. Meanwhile, the board of commissioners has no effect on financial performance.
